The Kid with Big, Big Ideas

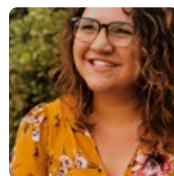

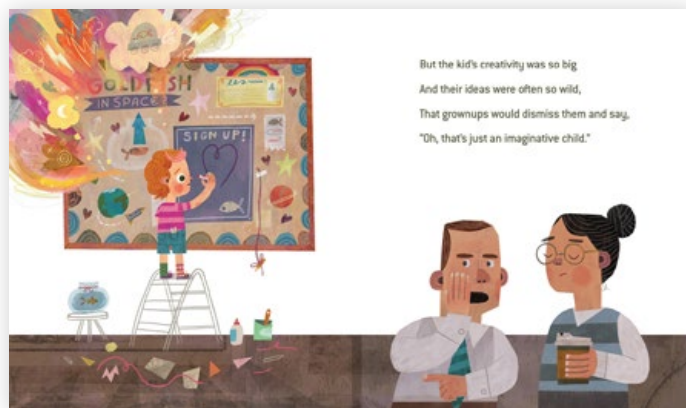

Written by Britney Winn Lee · Illustrated by Jacob Souva

“There once was a kid with glittery nails who always wore colorful socks, and all around town, this child was known for thinking outside of the box.”

Following the bestselling The Boy with Big, Big Feelings and The Girl with Big, Big Questions comes a new story about a nonbinary kid with ideas so big and wild that grown-ups often dismiss them.

This innovative kid doesn't stop there, and with the help of their supportive Gram, they come up with the biggest idea yet. In a world that so often dismisses and excludes kids from decision-making, this book boldly suggests that not only should kids have a voice, but that their ideas just might be the ticket to making progress.

All it takes to change the world is one big, big idea.

Britney Winn Lee is an author, editor, and United Methodist pastor living in Shreveport, Louisiana, with her creative husband and big-hearted son. Her books include The Boy with Big, Big Feelings (Beaming Books), The Girl with Big, Big Questions (Beaming Books), Rally: Communal Prayers for Lovers of Jesus and Justice (Upper Room), Deconstructed Do-Gooder: A Memoir about Learning Mercy the Hard Way (Cascade Books), and Good Night, Body: Finding Calm from Head to Toe (Tommy Nelson).

Jacob Souva is an illustrator who lives in Upstate New York with his wife and two boys. He's passionate about equipping kids with language to navigate their emotional well-being, laugh at silly things, and be inspired by big stories.

Jacob works digitally and loves to experiment with texture and color.

From Phyllis Alsdurf, author of Thanksgiving in the Woods and A Simple Christmas on the Farm, comes another cozy holiday story.

Halloween in the Orchard

Written by Phyllis Alsdurf · Illustrated by Lisa Hunt

The apples are ready for harvest and Halloween is here! What better way to celebrate than by donning homemade costumes and going to the local apple orchard? In this charming story, a boy and his family enjoy everything the orchard has to offer, including searching for scarecrows, getting lost in a corn maze, and going on a hayride. Phyllis Alsdurf's nostalgic storytelling and Lisa Hunt's cozy illustrations will have you counting down the days until Halloween and apple orchard season!

Backmatter includes a search-and-find key for finding scarecrows in the book and instructions for decorating a homemade trick-or-treat bag.

Halloween in the Orchard is the third in the beloved Countryside Holidays series, along with Thanksgiving in the Woods and A Simple Christmas on the Farm.

AN AWE-INSPIRING CHRISTMAS TALE FROM MULTI-AWARD-WINNING POET NIKKI GRIMES.

Lullaby for the King

Written by Nikki Grimes · Illustrated by Michelle Carlos

“The caravan traveled through wilderness, uphill and down, for hours that spun into days.

Then at last, glittering diamond-bright, Bethlehem appeared through the haze.”

With glittering poetry and stunning watercolor artwork, Lullaby for the King ushers readers into the awe and wonder of the Christmas story. Animals from across the ancient Palestinian landscape lumber, gambol, crawl, fly, and parade toward Bethlehem with gifts worthy of the newborn King. Rare ebony wood, a finely tuned harp, mustard and saffron, a zither, apricot cakes, and other treasures are carried to the manger. The animals bow low and join the music of the angels in a welcoming lullaby.

New York Times bestselling author Nikki Grimes and illustrator Michelle Carlos bring together a captivating tale of awe, wonder, and imagination that is sure to become a holiday classic.

“We are brown. We are beautiful.
We are perfect.”

Brown Girls Rule

Written by Ashok K. Banker · Illustrated by Brittney Bond

An empowering acclamation for girls bearing melanin of all kinds, Brown Girls Rule centers and uplifts girls of color in an inspiring poem that is one part love letter, two parts battle anthem. Ashok Banker and Brittney Bond bring this song to life with a brilliant array of brown girls as politicians, athletes, scientists, teachers, queens, and leaders in countless other roles where brown girls rule. Triumphant and uplifting, this picture book is a powerful reminder for girls of color that they may be young, but they are mighty.

Beloved Little Mole is back—this time with a heartfelt story about friendship, inclusion, and the annual fall feast.

Glenys Nellist is the author of multiple children's books, including the Little Mole series. She is also the author of the bestselling 'Twas the Evening of Christmas and the popular series Love Letters from God and Snuggle Time. Her writing reflects a deep passion for helping children discover joy in the world. Glenys lives in Michigan with her husband, David.

Sally Garland was brought up in the small town of Alness in the Highlands of Scotland and studied illustration at Edinburgh College of Art. She currently works in Glasgow, where she lives with her partner and young son.

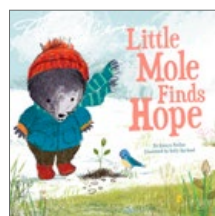

Little Mole Gives Thanks

Written by Glenys Nellist · Illustrated by Sally Garland

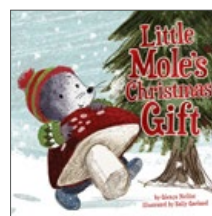

Pinecone pie, acorn stew, mushroom soup! Little Mole's big table is all set for his fancy fall feast, and he can't wait to welcome three very important guests. But when each of these guests delivers the news that they won't be able to attend, Little Mole doesn't know what to do. Who will fill his table? Disappointment turns into gratitude as his community shows Little Mole what true friendship looks like, just in time for the big feast he and Mama worked so hard to prepare.

In this fourth installment in the Little Mole series, author Glenys Nellist and illustrator Sally Garland team up again to bring a welcoming and inclusive tale. Children will relate to Little Mole's feelings of disappointment and be inspired to turn to their friends for comfort when things don't go the way they planned.

An engaging look at emotional intelligence through traits of cats.

Kaia's Big Felines

Written and Illustrated by Aura Lewis

Kaia experiences all kinds of emotions, and she relates them to various types of cats. Cheetah is fast and fearless, Leopard loves the spotlight, but Tiger has a temper. When Kaia's felines become overwhelming, she takes some time to herself to rest and reset.

Aura Lewis is an author-illustrator and designer with an MFA from the School of Visual Arts in New York City. She is inspired by fashion from around the world, playful color, vintage design, and popular culture. Aura's works include Gloria's Voice, Spectacular Sisters, and The Illustrated Feminist.

When Rosie visits her abuela, they find a way to connect despite speaking different languages.

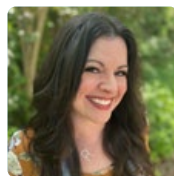

I Love You Mucho Mucho

Written and Illustrated by Rachel Más Davidson

Rosie is so excited to see her abuela and tell her everything that's been going on—but Abuela doesn't speak English, and Rosie doesn't speak Spanish. They quickly learn over lunch, though, that hunger has no language—and neither does love!

Based on Rachel's own experience, this story speaks to the power to communicate outside of spoken language.

Rachel Más Davidson is a Cuban American author-illustrator who enjoys creating positive stories and art. She previously taught K-12 art and gave private art lessons. Rachel earned a BFA from the Art Institute of Dallas. She currently lives in Texas.

Kiki Kicks

Written by Jane Yolen and Ariel Stemple · Illustrated by John Ledda

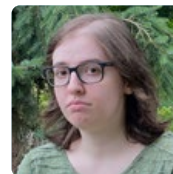

Kiki has watched her mama practice karate for a long time, and now she wants to learn too. She wants to become strong and steady like a mountain. The bullies at school are strong for the wrong reasons. They make Kiki feel small. But today at her first karate lesson, everything changes.

Award-winning author Jane Yolen joins forces with debut author Ariel Stemple in this picture book about reclaiming strength, confidence, and peace through martial arts. This lyrical story of self-empowerment at a martial arts studio is woven around the poetic lines of Yolen's well-known poem "Karate Kid," used by educators and librarians for decades. Backmatter includes personal notes from the authors about how this story came to be and how martial arts helped save Stemple who was bullied as a child.

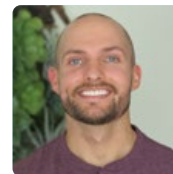

“I want to be strong for the right reasons.”

Jane Yolen is the author of well over 400 published books, including the Caldecott-winning Owl Moon, and the multimillion bestselling How Do Dinosaurs series, plus novels, short story collections, poetry collections, and many picture books. She is the recipient of countless awards, has six honorary doctorates from colleges and universities, and currently teaches creative writing.

Ariel Stemple is an author from Minneapolis, Minnesota, with a BFA from Hamline University. They come from a family of writers, including Jane Yolen and Adam Stemple. They trained in a martial arts style called wu chien pai for ten years. Kiki Kicks is their debut picture book.

John Ledda was born and raised in southeast Michigan. He is also the illustrator for Big Bear Was Not the Same by Joanna Rowland (Beaming Books) as well as many other titles.

“I've tried asking grown-ups to explain God, but they aren't very good at it.”

What If I Can't Explain God?

Written by Jennifer Grant · Illustrated by Hsulynn Pang

Explaining who God is can be really hard. Especially for grown-ups. They like to use confusing words like "Trinity," "outside of time," and "everywhere all at once." What's a kid to do if they can't explain God? Maybe it's not such a problem after all. The little girl in this story realizes there are so many things in the world that are hard to explain, but not hard to accept. Like how people speak in many languages; how the sun is a color, a feeling, and also light; and how people in her family have different names for each other. So what if you can't explain God? What matters is that God loves you—and that's not confusing at all!

In this new picture book by the author of Maybe God Is Like That Too (Beaming Books), children will learn that accepting a bit of mystery is part of what it means to have faith.

Jennifer Grant is the award-winning author of picture books for children and books for adults. Her books include Maybe God Is Like That Too, Maybe I Can Love My Neighbor Too (both, Beaming Books), and Dimming the Day (Broadleaf Books). Grant's work has appeared in Woman's Day, Chicago Parent, Patheos, and Chicago Tribune. Grant holds a master's degree in English literature with concentrations in creative writing and critical theory from Southern Methodist University in Dallas. A lifelong Episcopalian and mother of four, she lives in Chicago with her husband.

Hsulynn Pang is a Malaysian illustrator who enjoyed much of her childhood chasing after locusts and butterflies in her backyard, digging for earthworms, and collecting seashells from the beach nearby. This is quite possibly why she finds herself painting lots of nature-inspired artworks. In addition to What If I Can't Explain God?, Hsulynn illustrated Gardens Are for Growing by Chelsea Torretto (Familius, 2022) and Grow (Clarion Books, 2021).

Remembering Sundays with Grandpa illustrates how even when someone is no longer part of the physical world, their love lives on forever.

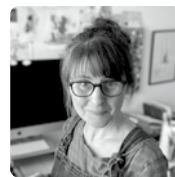

Remembering Sundays with Grandpa

Written by Lauren H. Kerstein · Illustrated by Nanette Regan

Henry and his mom feel Grandpa's love in all his special places: in the rocking chair where he read stories with silly voices, in the cucumbers that always made him hiccup, and in the jewelry box he used to wind up so they could dance. As they remember the many loving moments they shared, they work through their grief.

Lauren H. Kerstein is an author and psychotherapist. She is a Jersey girl at heart who currently lives in Colorado with her husband, their daughters, and their rescue dogs. Lauren is the author of Home for a While and the Rosie the Dragon and Charlie picture book series. She runs #ReVISIONweek and is a member of SCBWI and 12x12.

Nanette Regan studied fine arts at the Slade School of Art in London. She lives in Jersey, a tiny island between England and France.

Pickles is a bird of a different feather.

Be Your Own Bird

Written and Illustrated by Russ Willms

While the rest of the flock sticks together, Pickles does her own thing. They practice their downward spirals; Pickles practices her downward dog. They chatter away; Pickles meditates. But when danger arrives, Pickles is the only bird who isn't scared. Will the flock learn from Pickles, or will they all become hawk soup?

Full of humor—and even some bird yoga—Be Your Own Bird teaches kids about mindfulness, self-confidence, and the importance of always being themselves.

Russ Willms has always had a passion for art and fun. His work as an illustrator has been featured in hundreds of magazines, books, and ad campaigns throughout the world. Russ brings his humor to several picture books as both author and illustrator, including Elephants Do Not Belong in Trees (Orca Books, 2021) and Quiet, Please! (Orca Books, 2022). He created, wrote, and illustrated the app Zooper ABC Animals, and his work has won a Parents' Choice Award, a Mr. Christie Book Gold Award, and a Governor General Awards finalist rank. Russ lives in Victoria, British Columbia.

Superheroes Don't Babysit

Written by Amber Hendricks • Illustrated by Kyle Reed

Superheroes leap buildings, chase bad guys, and save the city from the evil Emperor Zog. Superheroes DON'T babysit. Except when their dad asks them to. In an epic battle of sibling rivalry, will this superhero finally meet her match? Or will she find exactly what she's been missing all along?

In Superheroes Don't Babysit, author Amber Hendricks tells a story full of humor and heart, and illustrator Kyle Reed's superpowered illustrations pack a punch with their bold colors and sharp lines. This book is fun to look at and to read with siblings who consider themselves rivals or friends, or maybe something in between.

In addition to Superheroes Don't Babysit, Amber Hendricks is the author of Sophie and Little Star, Extraordinary Ordinary Ella, and the Little Nature Explorers board book series. She lives in Missouri with her husband and two children

Kyle Reed is an illustrator whose work has appeared in children's books, magazines, animation, and advertising. He lives in Ontario, Canada.

The Star in the Christmas Play

Written by Lynne Marie • Illustrated by Lorna Hussey

All of the savanna animals are excited to audition for the school Christmas Play, except Raffi the giraffe. He's too tall to play baby Jesus, or Joseph, or even a manger animal. He feels discouraged, until he realizes that he's just the right size to play the most important part.

This endearing Christmas story for ages 4 to 8 will resonate with children who are still learning to be comfortable in their own skin.

Lynne Marie is the author of several picture books including Let's Eat! Mealtime Around the World, illustrated by Parwinder Singh, and Moldilocks and the 3 Scares, illustrated by David Rodriguez Lorenzo.

Lorna Hussey is the author and illustrator of Little Lost Unicorn (Sterling, 2009) and the illustrator of Good Good Father, by Chris Tomlin and Pat Barrett (Thomas Nelson, 2016); Hedgehog's 100th Day of School, by Lynne Marie (Scholastic, 2017); This Bear's Birthday, by Alyssa Satin Capucilli (Henry Holt, 2017); and Pigloo, by Anne Marie Pace (Henry Holt, 2016). Lorna lives in a small village called Llansantffraid in Wales.

“Muñoz Estrada’s digital artwork incorporates watercolor effects in bright metropolitan scenes that share the beatific narration’s vision of unity with God.”

—Publishers Weekly

“With its hopeful ending and tender examples of emotional processing, this picture book offers young readers an age-appropriate view of grief. . . . A sensitive, feelings-centered story about bereavement from a child’s perspective.”

—Kirkus Reviews

“With its poetic language and beautiful imagery, this story of immigration and connection through play is a worthwhile addition to most collections.”

—School Library Journal
