The Wind in the Willows

Lou Peacock, Kate Hindley

Key Selling Points

Perfect for fans of Kenneth Grahame's nostalgic tales of the riverbank and Wild Wood, this beautiful picture book classic is the perfect gift to bring an old favorite to a new generation.

Gloriously illustrated throughout in full color by much-loved artist Kate Hindley, who won the Sainsbury's Children's Book Award 2021 and Oscar's Book Prize 2021.

Lovingly abridged for younger readers by talented author Lou Peacock, whose work has sold in 18 languages.

With sumptuous high-end finishes, including a jacket, foiled cloth binding, and a ribbon marker, this is an heirloom gift for future generations and grown-up fans alike.

Summary

The hilarious and heart-warming adventures of Mole, Ratty, Badger and Toad are brought to life for a new generation in this enchanting abridgement of Kenneth Grahame's beloved childhood classic, accompanied by Kate Hindley's vibrant and appealing artwork.

One spring day, Mole peers out from his underground home to find a marvellous world awaits him. As the seasons pass, he picnics on the riverbank with Ratty, accompanies Toad on a chaotic caravan adventure, and even braves the snowy depths of the fearsome Wild Wood in search of Badger. But when Toad's mischievous ways finally land him in trouble, can his friends come to his rescue and recapture Toad Hall from a gang of sneaky stoats and wheedling weasels?

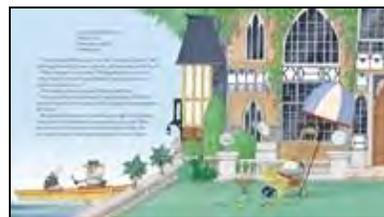

With sumptuous details including cloth binding, foil cover, full colour illustrations throughout, textured paper jacket, ribbon marker and head and tail bands.

Look, it's Moo Moo Cow

Camilla Reid, Clare Youngs

Key Selling Points

Farm-themed title in this stunning new board series for babies and toddlers
Tuggable felt flaps, decorative foil highlights, and a surprise mirror ending

Hide-and-seek narrative to engage and entertain the very young

Great for fans of "Old Macdonald Had a Farm"

Summary

Introducing an exciting new multi-sensory board book series written by Camilla Reid, with illustrations from acclaimed collage artist Clare Youngs!

Pre-schoolers will adore Clare Youngs' friendly animals with their high-contrast collage artwork, decorative foil highlights, and signature animal noises—but there's a tiny creature to find behind a tuggable felt flap, too! In this book, you'll meet Baa Baa Sheep, Cluck Cluck Hen, Oink Oink Pig and Moo Moo Cow herself. With a final "recap" page of animal noises, and the question, "But what noise do YOU make?", little readers will enjoy lifting the last flap and saying "hello" to themselves in the surprise mirror!

Visually gorgeous and with a genuinely engaging hide-and-seek narrative, this is a stunning new series from the author behind the bestselling children's series Felt Flaps, Pip and Posy, Bizzy Bear, and Peekaboo.

Also available: Look, It's Hoot Hoot Owl, Look, It's a Roar Roar Lion, and Look, It's a Woof Woof Dog.

Contributor Bio

Camilla Reid has written, conceived, and edited children's books for over twenty years. Her titles include the Pip and Posy series (illustrated by Axel Scheffler), the Bizzy Bear series (illustrated by Benji Davies), and the Felt Flaps series (illustrated by Ingela P Arrhenius).

Clare Youngs was a graphic designer for many years, creating packaging for Marks and Spencer and Boots, among others. For the last decade she has worked as a collage artist and published a number of paper-craft books for children and adults. Clare has four (now grown-up) children and lives with her husband and their dachshund, Otis, on the sunny coast of Kent, England.

My Big Fantastic Family

Adam Guillain, Charlotte Guillain, Ali Pye

Key Selling Points

This reassuring story tackles the issue of parents separating with warmth and humor. This celebration of unconditional family love and non-nuclear families is beautifully written in rhyme by award-winning authors Adam and Charlotte Guillain, whose George's Amazing Adventures series has sold over 90,000 copies in the UK alone.

Ali Pye has created a diverse cast of characters and captures a full range of emotions in her accessible artwork. She is the illustrator of Caryl Hart's top-selling Girls Can Do Anything!, and author-illustrator of Rosie is My Best Friend, and Copy Cat.

Summary

This funny and reassuring celebration of non-nuclear families will help children to understand that they will always be loved—even if parents separate or divorce.

When Dad says that he's moving out, Lily-May feels all upside-down inside. But now Dad comes on Sundays, and they ride their bikes really fast and make secret dens together. Lily-May plays more just with Mom now, too—and when Mom's new partner Peter comes over, they play pirate ships! Sometimes, there are tricky moments—Lily-May hates it when Mum has to work late—but a birthday party with Lily-May's big fantastic family helps her realize just how many people love her.

Beautifully written in rhyme by the award-winning authors of the bestselling George's Amazing Adventures series, this uplifting story with a diverse cast of characters embraces all the positive aspects of becoming part of a blended family after a divorce or separation.

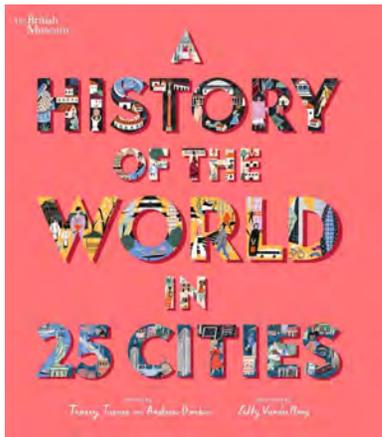

Contributor Bio

Charlotte and Adam Guillain met in Zanzibar while working with Voluntary Services Overseas. Charlotte's house was near the sea—perfect for swimming with dolphins and hanging out with bush babies. Adam lived in a rainforest, where he spent his time playing the guitar and cooking. Since then, Adam and Charlotte have made up lots of songs and stories together.

Ali Pye had wanted to be an illustrator ever since she was little, and used to draw stories and stick the pages together to make little books. But it took her a few years and a stint as a copy editor before she started drawing professionally. She graduated from Kingston with an MA in Illustration in 2010 and is now a full-time illustrator.

A History of the World in 25 Cities

Tracey Turner, Andrew Donkin, Libby VanderPloeg

Key Selling Points

Illustrated in stunning detail by Libby VanderPloeg, this book contains 25 specially created city maps from all over the world, from ancient history to the present day. Each map has been carefully researched and drawn in consultation with expert curators from the British Museum, including some city maps which have never been drawn before.

Packed with fascinating figures and amazing facts about each city and what life was (or is) like for the people who live there.

From award-winning illustrator Libby VanderPloeg and internationally bestselling authors Andrew Donkin and Tracey Turner

Summary

A gorgeous, large-format gift hardcover featuring city maps from all over the world, from ancient history to the present day.

With a stunning neon cover and packed with countless facts for curious readers to return to again and again, this is a perfect gift for children who want to explore history from around the world.

Co-authored by award-winning children's authors Tracey Turner and Andrew Donkin in consultation with specialist curators at the British Museum, readers can visit cities from every inhabited continent on Earth, from the walled city of Jericho built over 10,000 years ago, to the modern-day metropolis of Tokyo, the most-densely populated city in the world today.

Featuring vibrant, beautifully detailed artwork from Libby VanderPloeg, each carefully researched map takes readers on a city tour at a unique moment in time—from exploring Athens in ancient Greece during the birth of democracy, to walking the beautiful lamplit streets of medieval Benin, deep in the West African rainforest. Readers can even visit China's long-lost capital city of Xianyang—a city for which no original map exists, which was brought to life with support from the British Museum's fantastic team of experts.

Cities featured include Jericho, Memphis, Athens, Xianyang, Rome, Constantinople, Baghdad, Jórvík, Benin City, Tenochtitlán, Granada, Beijing, Venice, Delhi, Cuzco, Amsterdam, Sydney, Paris, London, Bangkok, Saint Petersburg, New York City, Berlin, San Francisco, and Tokyo, plus an exploration of Cities of Today and Cities of Tomorrow.

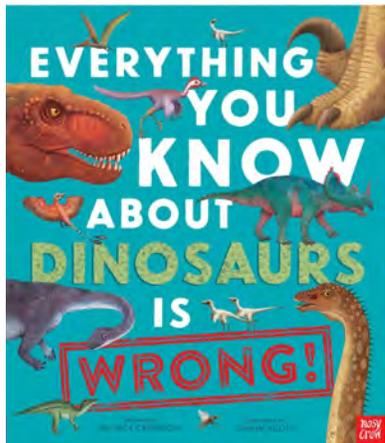

Contributor Bio

Andrew Donkin has sold over 10 million children's books and graphic novels, worldwide. His graphic novel, Illegal (co-written with Eoin Colfer), was an international bestseller and has won or been nominated for over 40 book awards. Andrew has written for many global franchises, including Batman, Superman, Doctor Who, and Artemis Fowl. His non-fiction work includes biographies of Roald Dahl, William Shakespeare, and Albert Einstein. He loves books, comics, and tea. Andrew lives with his family near the river Thames in London, England.

Tracey Turner has written lots of books for children, including How Many Mice Make an Elephant, The Curious Book of Lists, Exploding Beetles and Inflatable Fish, and more than 80 other titles. Her work has been published in over 20 languages and many of her books have gone on to become best-sellers. With fascinating, friendly, and easy-to-understand text written by zoologist Dr. Nick Crumpton and amazingly detailed color artwork on every page, this beautifully produced hardcover gift book with an incredible tactile cover will delight dinosaur fans of any age.

Contributor Bio

Dr. Nick Crumpton grew up in the UK on a diet of David Attenborough documentaries and hand-me-down Sega games before studying ecology at Leeds University.

With a PhD in Zoology from the University of Cambridge, he has worked at the BBC Natural History Unit, the Zoological Society of London (on venomous mammals and Indonesian biodiversity), and University College London, where he occasionally teaches. He now works at the Natural History Museum in London, England.

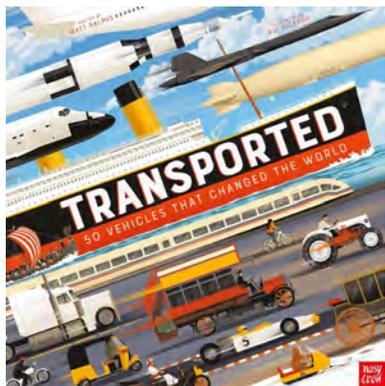

Gavin Scott was born in Salisbury, England. He grew up in the Dorset countryside where, as a young child, he was often found covered in mud at the bottom of the garden, holding up a grass snake or some other interesting creature to draw. Gavin studied Natural History Illustration in college and later went on to enter the world of character design and children's illustration. He lives with his family in Somerset, England.

From ancient chariots and Viking longships to racing cars, rockets, and solar-powered airplanes, our world has been changed by the pioneering development of many incredible vehicles. Take a journey through time to discover how these 50 groundbreaking inventions changed the world and how they might even shape our future . . .

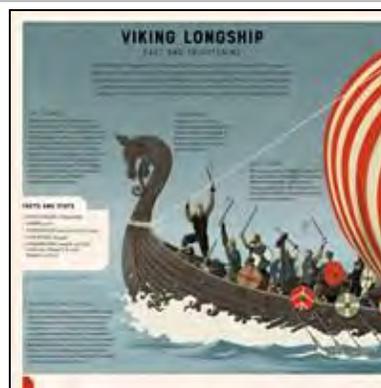

Contributor Bio

Matt Ralphs is a freelance writer of children's fiction and non-fiction. While working for many years as an editor he helped other writers create novels, comics, and lavish art books, including special editions made from engraved metal, branded wood, and demon skin. He lives on the Grand Union Canal in England on a boat he christened Nostromo because Alien is his favorite movie.

Rui Ricardo is a Portuguese illustrator based in Porto, Portugal, where he studied graphic design and academic drawing at the University of Fine Arts. His illustrations have been published in major American and British magazines and he has worked with many prominent international brands and publishers. An avid backpacker, he has spent years traveling across Asia, Europe, and bits of Africa and South America.

When he's not drawing, you'll find him building and painting cardboard houses with his 5 year old daughter Laura, riding his bicycle, or playing the banjo and the ukulele.

Santa Claus and the Three Bears

Lou Peacock, Margarita Kukhtina

Key Selling Points

A warm-hearted and witty fractured fairy-tale adventure for Christmas
Exciting, race-against-time narrative starring Baby Bear—a brave and resourceful heroine!

Favorite fairy-tale characters are brought playfully to life in Margarita Kukhtina's fun and stylish artwork

Summary

A warm-hearted and witty fractured fairy-tale adventure for Christmas.

It's Christmas Eve and Father Christmas has fallen asleep at the Three Bears' cottage but NOTHING will wake him. It's up to Baby Bear and the Fairy-Tale Rescue Rangers to deliver the last presents so EVERY child gets a gift. But how will they cross the Roaring Rushing River, navigate the Deepest Darkest Wood, and get past the Most Monstrous Mountain . . . all before the children wake up on Christmas morning?

The perfect picture book to share with children 3+ at Christmas!

Contributor Bio

Lou Peacock is lucky enough to have one of the best jobs in the world: "Publishing Director of Picture Books" at Nosy Crow. She has a degree in English Literature from Oxford University, and over twenty years' experience in children's publishing. She started her editorial career working on novelty books, but has focused on picture books and poetry for the last 15 years. She often puts her author hat on to write picture books for Nosy Crow and has a notebook full of scribbled ideas.

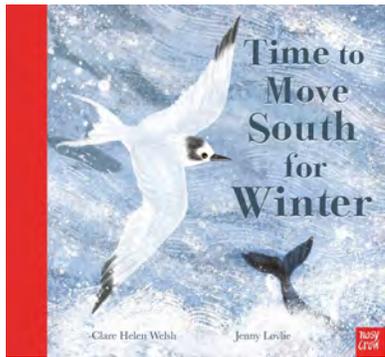

Margarita Kukhtina has loved drawing and painting for as long as she can remember. After graduating as a Master of Fine Arts, Margarita worked as a graphic designer, creating personal projects in her spare time that helped her find her true passion—illustrating children's books. She works in mixed media, combining traditional and digital techniques to create playful and atmospheric illustrations. She lives in Moscow, Russia.

Time to Move South for Winter

Clare Helen Welsh, Jenny Løvlie

Key Selling Points

Beautiful, lyrical text by award-winning author Clare Helen Welsh, whose book The Tide won the North Somerset Teacher's Book Award 2019, SCBWI-BI Crystal Kite Award 2020, and an Honor Award for Illustration at The Children's Book Awards, Ireland

A story about animal migrations, featuring arctic terns, humpback whales, caribou, Canada geese, leatherback turtles, and monarch butterflies

Perfect for young animal lovers, with a map and double-page spread of non-fiction facts at the end!

A breathtaking picture book about incredible animal migrations, illustrated by the winner of the 2019 Waterstones Children's Book Prize, Jenny Løvlie.

Over the cold, mirrored waters of the Arctic, a tiny tern sets off on the world's longest animal migration. On her way, she passes humpback whales, caribou, Canada geese, leatherback turtles, and monarch butterflies, each on their own incredible journey south for winter. When the Arctic tern finally arrives, she must find a new home on the Antarctic shore . . . until it's time to return to the northern skies once again.

A beautiful, lyrical, and reassuring bedtime story, perfect for young animal lovers, with a map and double-page spread of non-fiction facts at the end.

Contributor Bio

Clare Helen Welsh is a picture book writer who loves dreaming up stories for young readers and their families to enjoy. For many years she was an elementary school teacher, which ignited her love of storytelling, reading, and role-play. When she isn't imagining new worlds and creating characters, she enjoys walking on the beach and in the countryside and takes lots of inspiration from the natural world. Clare lives with her husband, two children, and her dog, Hope, in Devon, England.

Jenny Løvlie grew up in Northern Norway on Ekkerøy, a tiny peninsula sticking out into the Barents Sea, where she was the first child to be born in 12 years. Jenny studied Illustration & Animation at Kingston University in London, England. Her love of nature shines through in her work and she draws inspiration from the wild landscapes of Scandinavia, Nordic folklore, and Scandinavian design. Jenny's favourite things are going on adventures in her van, camping, bird-watching, cooking, and reading. She lives in Cardiff, Wales.

Contributor Bio

Goldie Hawk is a children's book writer and editor whose books have been translated into 11 languages. She spent much of her childhood running wild on Wimbledon Common or with her nose in a book. These days, she spends her time researching and writing about all kinds of topics—historical houses, nature, Greek myths, pumpkin hunts, alpine adventures, and more. She lives and works in London, England.

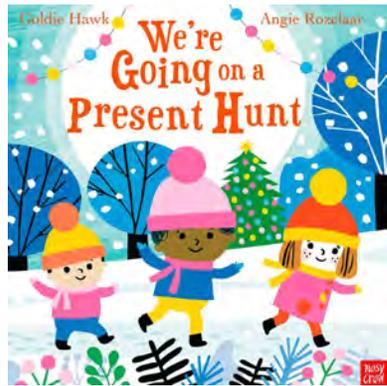

Angie Rozelaar was born into a big unruly family in Kent, England. Ever since she was little, all she ever wanted to do was to draw and paint and she still can't quite believe her luck that she's now allowed to do this all day and call it her "job." Apart from illustrating picture books, Angie works with companies around the world to create illustrations for greeting cards, games, toys, puzzles, calendars, and clothing. Angie and her family are now based in France, where they live in an old Normandy farmhouse alongside a growing menagerie of rescue animals, including cats, chickens, and donkeys.
